Salary and Tax

TAKE-HOME PAY COMPARISON

Tax year 2026
Amounts per year

A — $140,000 a year in British Columbia
B — $140,000 a year in Alberta

A takes home $351 more per year

$29 per month · same gross — the difference is all deductions

LINE ITEM	A · B.C.	B · ALBERTA	B − A
INCOME
Gross income	$140,000	$140,000	±0
Taxable income after the CPP enhanced deduction	$138,873	$138,873	±0
PAYROLL PROGRAMS
CPP + CPP2	$4,646	$4,646	±0
EI premium	$1,123	$1,123	±0
INCOME TAX
Federal tax after credits	$22,702	$22,702	±0
Provincial tax after credits	$10,119	$10,470	+$351
BOTTOM LINE
Total deductions	$38,591	$38,942	+$351
Take-home	$101,409	$101,058	−$351
Effective deduction rate share of gross lost to tax, CPP and EI	27.6%	27.8%	+0.3 pts
True marginal rate on the next $100	38.3%	36.0%	−2.3 pts

Amounts per year; rates are annual. Green favours B, red favours A. Full statements for A and B follow, their bracket figures drawn on one scale.

Employment income only, single filer resident in the stated province on Dec 31. Basic credits only (no RRSP, dependant or tuition). Validated against TaxTips.ca and Wealthsimple, October 2026. An estimate, not tax advice.
Sources: CRA tax rates · CRA payroll deductions tables · Adjust these numbers: salaryandtax.ca/compare?a=140000-bc&b=140000-ab

Salary and Tax

TAKE-HOME PAY STATEMENT

SCENARIO A

Tax year 2026
Amounts per year

Prepared for an employee earning $140,000 a year in British Columbia.

INCOME

Gross pay — $140,000
Your salary before any deductions — $140,000 a year, the number on your offer letter.

PAYROLL PROGRAMS — taken before income tax

CPP — Canada Pension Plan — - $4,230
5.95% of earnings between $3,500 and $74,600. Its enhanced slice is deductible, which lowers your taxable income below.

CPP2 — second-tier pension — - $416
4% of earnings between $74,600 and $85,000. Fully deductible.

EI — Employment Insurance — - $1,123
1.63% of earnings up to $68,900. Funds job-loss, parental and sickness benefits.

INCOME TAX

Taxable income — $138,873
Gross minus the deductible part of CPP. Income tax is worked out on this, not on your gross.

Federal income tax — - $22,702
Charged in layers from 14% up to the 26% band your income reaches, less credits for the basic personal amount, CPP, EI and the Canada employment amount.

British Columbia income tax — - $10,119
British Columbia brackets from 5.6%, less credits for the basic personal amount, CPP and EI.

TOTAL

Total deductions — - $38,591
Everything taken off the top: income tax, CPP and EI.

NET TAKE-HOME PAY

$101,409

per year · 72.4% of your gross stays with you

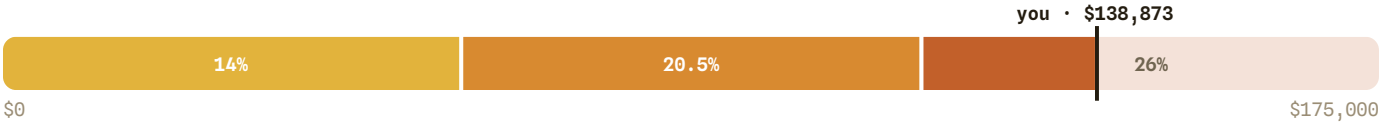

KEEPS 72%

FIGURE 1

How your income tax was built

FEDERAL BRACKETS

$22,702 federal tax per year

BRITISH COLUMBIA BRACKETS

$10,119 provincial tax per year

Each band taxes only the income that falls inside it. The marker is where your taxable income reaches — everything to its left was taxed at the lower bands first, which is why your effective rate is well below your top bracket. Bars show tax before credits.

SCHEDULE A

What lands each payday

PAY FREQUENCY	GROSS	DEDUCTIONS	TAKE-HOME
Weekly	$2,692.31	$742.13	$1,950.17
Bi-weekly	$5,384.62	$1,484.27	$3,900.35
Semi-monthly	$5,833.33	$1,607.96	$4,225.38
Monthly	$11,666.67	$3,215.91	$8,450.75
Yearly	$140,000.00	$38,590.97	$101,409.03

EFFECTIVE TAX RATE

23.4%

The share of your whole income that goes to income tax — your true average.

TRUE MARGINAL RATE

38.3%

What your next $100 loses to tax, CPP and EI. On your next $1,000 raise you'd keep about $617 — a raise never lowers your take-home.

Employment income only, single filer resident in British Columbia on Dec 31, 2026. Basic credits only (no RRSP, dependant or tuition). Validated against TaxTips.ca and Wealthsimple, October 2026. An estimate, not tax advice.
Sources: CRA tax rates · CRA payroll deductions tables · Adjust these numbers: salaryandtax.ca/?income=140000&province=bc

Salary and Tax

TAKE-HOME PAY STATEMENT

SCENARIO B

Tax year 2026
Amounts per year

Prepared for an employee earning $140,000 a year in Alberta.

INCOME

Gross pay — $140,000
Your salary before any deductions — $140,000 a year, the number on your offer letter.

PAYROLL PROGRAMS — taken before income tax

CPP — Canada Pension Plan — - $4,230
5.95% of earnings between $3,500 and $74,600. Its enhanced slice is deductible, which lowers your taxable income below.

CPP2 — second-tier pension — - $416
4% of earnings between $74,600 and $85,000. Fully deductible.

EI — Employment Insurance — - $1,123
1.63% of earnings up to $68,900. Funds job-loss, parental and sickness benefits.

INCOME TAX

Taxable income — $138,873
Gross minus the deductible part of CPP. Income tax is worked out on this, not on your gross.

Federal income tax — - $22,702
Charged in layers from 14% up to the 26% band your income reaches, less credits for the basic personal amount, CPP, EI and the Canada employment amount.

Alberta income tax — - $10,470
Alberta brackets from 8%, less credits for the basic personal amount, CPP and EI.

TOTAL

Total deductions — - $38,942
Everything taken off the top: income tax, CPP and EI.

NET TAKE-HOME PAY

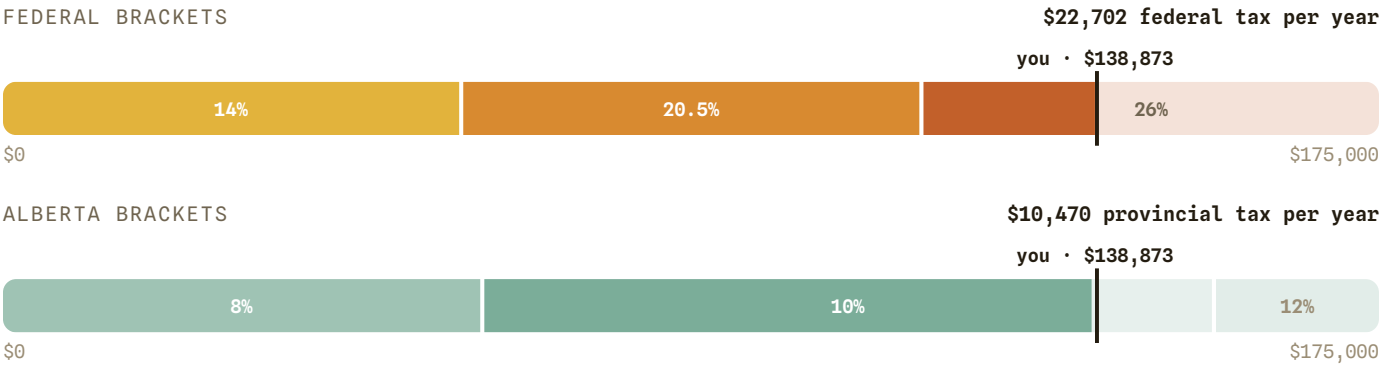

$101,058

per year · 72.2% of your gross stays with you

KEEPS 72%

FIGURE 1

How your income tax was built

Each band taxes only the income that falls inside it. The marker is where your taxable income reaches — everything to its left was taxed at the lower bands first, which is why your effective rate is well below your top bracket. Bars show tax before credits.

SCHEDULE A

What lands each payday

PAY FREQUENCY	GROSS	DEDUCTIONS	TAKE-HOME
Weekly	$2,692.31	$748.89	$1,943.42
Bi-weekly	$5,384.62	$1,497.77	$3,886.84
Semi-monthly	$5,833.33	$1,622.59	$4,210.75
Monthly	$11,666.67	$3,245.17	$8,421.50
Yearly	$140,000.00	$38,942.04	$101,057.96

EFFECTIVE TAX RATE

23.7%

The share of your whole income that goes to income tax — your true average.

TRUE MARGINAL RATE

36.0%

What your next $100 loses to tax, CPP and EI. On your next $1,000 raise you'd keep about $640 — a raise never lowers your take-home.

Employment income only, single filer resident in Alberta on Dec 31, 2026. Basic credits only (no RRSP, dependant or tuition). Validated against TaxTips.ca and Wealthsimple, October 2026. An estimate, not tax advice.
Sources: CRA tax rates · CRA payroll deductions tables · Adjust these numbers: salaryandtax.ca/?income=140000&province=ab