Salary and Tax

TAKE-HOME PAY COMPARISON

Tax year 2026
Amounts per year

A — $145,000 a year in Ontario
B — $145,000 a year in British Columbia

B takes home $2,921 more per year

$243 per month · same gross — the difference is all deductions

LINE ITEM	A · ONTARIO	B · B.C.	B − A
INCOME
Gross income	$145,000	$145,000	±0
Taxable income after the CPP enhanced deduction	$143,873	$143,873	±0
PAYROLL PROGRAMS
CPP + CPP2	$4,646	$4,646	±0
EI premium	$1,123	$1,123	±0
INCOME TAX
Federal tax after credits	$24,002	$24,002	±0
Provincial tax after credits	$10,790	$10,817	+$27
Ontario surtax a tax on Ontario tax	$2,198	–	−$2,198
Ontario health premium	$750	–	−$750
BOTTOM LINE
Total deductions	$43,510	$40,588	−$2,921
Take-home	$101,490	$104,412	+$2,921
Effective deduction rate share of gross lost to tax, CPP and EI	30.0%	28.0%	−2.0 pts
True marginal rate on the next $100	43.4%	40.7%	−2.7 pts

Amounts per year; rates are annual. Green favours B, red favours A. Full statements for A and B follow, their bracket figures drawn on one scale.

Employment income only, single filer resident in the stated province on Dec 31. Basic credits only (no RRSP, dependant or tuition). Validated against TaxTips.ca and Wealthsimple, October 2026. An estimate, not tax advice.
Sources: CRA tax rates · CRA payroll deductions tables · Adjust these numbers: salaryandtax.ca/compare?a=145000-on&b=145000-bc

Salary and Tax

TAKE-HOME PAY STATEMENT

SCENARIO A

Tax year 2026
Amounts per year

Prepared for an employee earning $145,000 a year in Ontario.

INCOME

Gross pay — $145,000
Your salary before any deductions — $145,000 a year, the number on your offer letter.

PAYROLL PROGRAMS — taken before income tax

CPP — Canada Pension Plan — - $4,230
5.95% of earnings between $3,500 and $74,600. Its enhanced slice is deductible, which lowers your taxable income below.

CPP2 — second-tier pension — - $416
4% of earnings between $74,600 and $85,000. Fully deductible.

EI — Employment Insurance — - $1,123
1.63% of earnings up to $68,900. Funds job-loss, parental and sickness benefits.

INCOME TAX

Taxable income — $143,873
Gross minus the deductible part of CPP. Income tax is worked out on this, not on your gross.

Federal income tax — - $24,002
Charged in layers from 14% up to the 26% band your income reaches, less credits for the basic personal amount, CPP, EI and the Canada employment amount.

Ontario tax after credits — $10,790
Ontario brackets from 5.05%, less credits for the basic personal amount, CPP and EI.

Ontario surtax — + $2,198
20% of Ontario tax above $5,818, plus 36% above $7,446 — a tax on your tax.

Ontario Health Premium — + $750
Collected with Ontario tax; steps up with taxable income to a maximum of $900.

Ontario income tax — - $13,738
The provincial total: the lines above, added up.

TOTAL

Total deductions — - $43,510
Everything taken off the top: income tax, CPP and EI.

NET TAKE-HOME PAY

$101,490

per year · 70.0% of your gross stays with you

KEEPS 70%

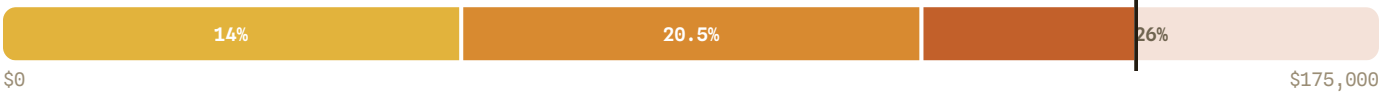

FIGURE 1

How your income tax was built

FEDERAL BRACKETS

$24,002 federal tax per year

you · $143,873

$0 $175,000

ONTARIO BRACKETS

$13,738 provincial tax per year

you · $143,873

$0 $175,000

Each band taxes only the income that falls inside it. The marker is where your taxable income reaches — everything to its left was taxed at the lower bands first, which is why your effective rate is well below your top bracket. Bars show tax before credits.

SCHEDULE A

What lands each payday

PAY FREQUENCY	GROSS	DEDUCTIONS	TAKE-HOME
Weekly	$2,788.46	$836.72	$1,951.74
Bi-weekly	$5,576.92	$1,673.45	$3,903.48
Semi-monthly	$6,041.67	$1,812.90	$4,228.77
Monthly	$12,083.33	$3,625.80	$8,457.53
Yearly	$145,000.00	$43,509.63	$101,490.37

EFFECTIVE TAX RATE

26.0%

The share of your whole income that goes to income tax — your true average.

TRUE MARGINAL RATE

43.4%

What your next $100 loses to tax, CPP and EI. On your next $1,000 raise you'd keep about $566 — a raise never lowers your take-home.

Employment income only, single filer resident in Ontario on Dec 31, 2026. Basic credits only (no RRSP, dependant or tuition). Validated against TaxTips.ca and Wealthsimple, October 2026. An estimate, not tax advice.

Sources: CRA tax rates · CRA payroll deductions tables · Adjust these numbers: salaryandtax.ca/?income=145000&province=on

Salary and Tax

TAKE-HOME PAY STATEMENT

SCENARIO B

Tax year 2026
Amounts per year

Prepared for an employee earning $145,000 a year in British Columbia.

INCOME

Gross pay — $145,000
Your salary before any deductions — $145,000 a year, the number on your offer letter.

PAYROLL PROGRAMS — taken before income tax

CPP — Canada Pension Plan — - $4,230
5.95% of earnings between $3,500 and $74,600. Its enhanced slice is deductible, which lowers your taxable income below.

CPP2 — second-tier pension — - $416
4% of earnings between $74,600 and $85,000. Fully deductible.

EI — Employment Insurance — - $1,123
1.63% of earnings up to $68,900. Funds job-loss, parental and sickness benefits.

INCOME TAX

Taxable income — $143,873
Gross minus the deductible part of CPP. Income tax is worked out on this, not on your gross.

Federal income tax — - $24,002
Charged in layers from 14% up to the 26% band your income reaches, less credits for the basic personal amount, CPP, EI and the Canada employment amount.

British Columbia income tax — - $10,817
British Columbia brackets from 5.6%, less credits for the basic personal amount, CPP and EI.

TOTAL

Total deductions — - $40,588
Everything taken off the top: income tax, CPP and EI.

NET TAKE-HOME PAY

$104,412

per year · 72.0% of your gross stays with you

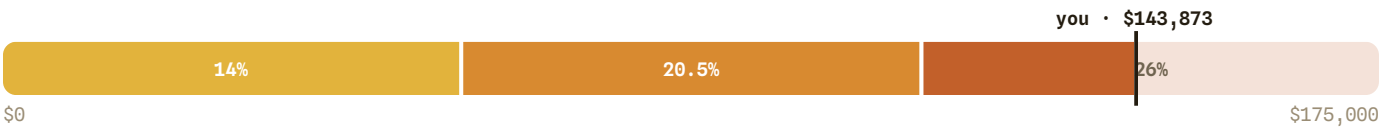

KEEPS 72%

FIGURE 1

How your income tax was built

FEDERAL BRACKETS

$24,002 federal tax per year

BRITISH COLUMBIA BRACKETS

$10,817 provincial tax per year

Each band taxes only the income that falls inside it. The marker is where your taxable income reaches — everything to its left was taxed at the lower bands first, which is why your effective rate is well below your top bracket. Bars show tax before credits.

SCHEDULE A

What lands each payday

PAY FREQUENCY	GROSS	DEDUCTIONS	TAKE-HOME
Weekly	$2,788.46	$780.55	$2,007.91
Bi-weekly	$5,576.92	$1,561.09	$4,015.83
Semi-monthly	$6,041.67	$1,691.19	$4,350.48
Monthly	$12,083.33	$3,382.37	$8,700.96
Yearly	$145,000.00	$40,588.44	$104,411.56

EFFECTIVE TAX RATE

24.0%

The share of your whole income that goes to income tax — your true average.

TRUE MARGINAL RATE

40.7%

What your next $100 loses to tax, CPP and EI. On your next $1,000 raise you'd keep about $593 — a raise never lowers your take-home.

Employment income only, single filer resident in British Columbia on Dec 31, 2026. Basic credits only (no RRSP, dependant or tuition). Validated against TaxTips.ca and Wealthsimple, October 2026. An estimate, not tax advice.

Sources: CRA tax rates · CRA payroll deductions tables · Adjust these numbers: salaryandtax.ca/?income=145000&province=bc